A CAMPAIGN OF DECENCY.

When the supset tinged the meadows Where the gras as gently blew, Whisper'd mid the falling shadows Come the word; "Love wilt be true?

And the maiden's choose was glowing And the light that if had her eyes from a heart with here o'erflowing, Seemed to dim the Western skies.

A SONG OF LOVE.

And her voice was low and broken As she answer'd, tender 'ye Take this kiss no love's swort token, For I leve none che but thee."

Thus it is that love's sweet story Fills the gr a'er part of life; Better for than gain and glosy Won from marts and fields of strite,

Falling from the wheel of time We may know there is a morrow, With a wealth of love sublime. -Albert E. Hunt.
